Green Concierge Travel presents:
Traveling Green – ecotourism and green travel

Waking up in your bedroom, you smell coffee being brewed. You decide to put off the shower and wander down to the breakfast room in your bathrobe. You find fresh fruit and freshly baked scones laid out on the table. On the side board, fair trade tea and coffee with accompanying organic cream are waiting and you help yourself.

In the living room, you sit down and think about the day ahead. You have a reservation for a historic walking tour in the morning. After the tour, you have decided to try a restaurant suggested by Green Concierge Travel that serves organic vegetarian food. You plan to spend the rest of the day at the museum. You bought a three day transit pass yesterday and Green Concierge Travel provided you with a transit map; you are set to go! And your host at the B&B said he could provide some ideas for dinner spots where the chefs feature locally grown and regional specialties. Time to get ready for your home made breakfast and the day ahead and thank you Green Concierge Travel!
